The first major activity this year, the Homecoming, was a great success, through the efforts of all students. This year we have had many more student assemblies and pep sessions before the important games. This has tended to bind our students in school loyalty.

Band "blasts" for victory.

This year's Homecoming festivities will probably be remembered as one of the finest for Merrillville. For the second consecutive year the activities began with a colorful parade, building up excitement for the all important Friday night game. Hopeful anticipation was fulfilled when our fighting Pirates pulled a 13-0 victory over the Highland Trojans.

Halftime proved to be very exciting also as the prize for the outstanding float was worthily awarded to the Senior Class. The climax of the evening came when Mr. Demaree crowned the Queen and Mr. Football. Seniors Rae Ellen Sherrington, Roger Feiser, and George Gilrowski reigned as Homecoming royalty. Finally, Saturday night brought a joyful close to the week's festivities.

At the traditional Homecoming Dance couples enjoyed the enchanting music of Ramsey Nix. Queen Rae Ellen Sherrington and Mr. Footballs, Roger Feiser and George Gilrowski reigned over the festivities. Students, parents, and faculty members all agreed that the 1962 Homecoming would always be regarded as a huge success.

Choir Raises Voices

The choral dept. under the able direction of Mr. Jerauld Reinhart completed a successful year with the annual Spring Concert. The Choirs joined with the band for the final concert for the year.

The year was begun with the choirs and band wishing the people of the community "Season's Greetings."

Members of the choirs participated in the district contest for vocalists at Lew Wallace High School. All those who received first place competed at Butler University, in Indianapolis, on a state-wide basis.

The Senior Concert Choir performed with the band in the band's Winter Concert. The Concert Choir also performed with the choirs from five other schools. Each choir sings a few selections, then all choirs combine to sing songs selected by the directors "en mass."

This year, for the first time, the choirs presented a program for the Junior High.

A member of the Senior Concert Choir should have one year of experience in another Glee Club, but this is a flexible rule.

The Vocalteens, a group of sixteen girls and boys, and the Velvateens, seven girls, entertain at private parties and gatherings. To be a member of either of these groups, one must audition before Mr. Reinhart and the present members of the group. The members then vote on those trying out, and Mr. Reinhart takes this vote into consideration as he decides.

The choirs sponsored the North Texas State Concert Choir's visit to Merrillville and their concert here.

Juniors Mrs.

This year the Junior class presented the play Mrs. McThing. It was a story of Mrs. Howard V. Larue, a very rich and pompous woman. In the course of the story Mrs. Larue angers Mrs. McThing by not letting her son, Howie, play with Mrs. McThing's daughter, Mimi. For spite Mrs. McThing substitutes a "stick" or a perfect likeness of Howie for the boy and sends the real Howie to Shantyland Pool Hall.

M.H.S. Celebrates Christmas

Many Christmas presents were donated for needy children.

Bob Sheridan had just heard the music at the Christmas dance.

Through the joint efforts of the Senior Hi-Y and the National Honor Society, this year's Christmas Dance was a success.

On December 15, 1962, the Englehart Gym became a Winter Paradise, as couples danced to the music of the Lancers.

As part of the admission, each couple was asked to bring a gift to a needy child and the gifts were later distributed by the Hi-Y.

The Christmas Spirit was shared by all who went to this annual semi-formal dance.

Spring Brings Athletic Ball

Sponsored by the Letterman's Association, the annual Athletic Ball was held on March 15 in a gaily decorated gym. Couples present danced to the music of Vito Manno. The climax of the evening came when Susie Larson was crowned Athletic Ball Queen. The other candidates were Senior, Tina Zuccolotto, and Sophomore, Marlene Gransinger.

Vito Manno's smooth music made the Athletic Ball one of the most enjoyable semi-formal dances of the current season.

Dark of the Moon

This year the Senior Class presented "Dark of the Moon" by Howard Richardson and William Berney. Mr. Yule, the director provided valuable assistance, because he performed in the play in New York. Lynette Rewerts, student director, and Paul Jones, business manager, aided Mr. Yule behind the scenes.

The story of "Dark of the Moon" is about John, a witch boy, who falls in love with Barbara Allen, a beautiful girl.

The Conjur Man agrees to make John a human if he marries Barbara. He can remain a human as long as Barbara remains faithful to him.

All works well, until the people in Barbara's town turn against John, and make Barbara marry Marvin Hudgens, thus breaking part of the bargain.

Barbara meets John once more. When she dies, John is changed back into a witch, and he forgets that Barbara Allen ever existed.

John Keaveny and Shirley Ritchie play the romantic leads.

A Night in

Romantic

King Roger and Queen Donna reign over festivities.

For their Prom, the class of '63 chose the theme 'Romantic Rome.' The gym was decorated as an outdoor scene. In the center of the floor was a large white fountain with three tiers and fake water. On the walls were murals of Roman parks, buildings, and the Colosseum. Also, on one of the walls was mural consisting of alcoves with Roman statues. At the east end of the gym was a throne covered in purple and white satin. This was surrounded by white stairs strewn with lavender flowers. The centerpiece and favors were purple and white lyres and golden goblets. The goblets also served as nut cups. The refreshments were punch and cookies laid out in banquet fashion.

A Roman Garden

Six sophomore boys and their dates served as slaves. In their purple and gold tunics, they were easily identified.

The music was provided by Buddy Presner. The song used in the theme was "Three Coins in the Fountain."

The crowning of the Prom Queen and King was held at ten o'clock. Roger Fieser and Donna Grant were crowned by Carol Mullen and Jeff Brugos, the senior class president and vice-president.

The Grand March followed the crowning ceremony. Then the King and Queen danced in the circle formed by the parading couples.

The first prom to be decorated in the school colors, the dance proved to be very successful.

Fine Arts: Special Club

The Fine Arts Society is a small but select club. The membership is limited to 18 students. A maximum of 3 students from each section of the fine arts may be appointed. Members are chosen by the instructor or sponsor of the section in question. Those chosen must show proof of ability in the fine arts by presentation of work in front of a public audience.

Membership in this society is that of honor. Duties of members are restricted to that of upholding the motto of the society; "To thine ownself be true."

Sophomore Play Returns to M.H.S.

The Sophomore play was entitled, "The Mouse That Roared." The setting is in a mythical kingdom, Grand Fenwick. Because it is mythical, symbolism was used in the setting by cleverly arranging varied colored boxes to represent the castle, the lab, and the White House.

After the climax of the play it is clear to see how a country only 5 miles long and 3 miles wide became a mouse that roared. . . . roared peace to the world.

"I should like to point out . . ."

Pirates Take Seven . . . Drop Three

The football fans of the Merrillville area were given all that they could possibly ask for with the fine performance of the Merrillville Pirates. The hard work of the team, the advice of Coaches Demaree, Patz, and Armontrout; and the solid backing by the Merrillville fans put the pirates into a two-way tie for second place in the Calumet conference.

A 12 to 6 victory over the Calumet Warriors was the first of the Pirates' 7 wins. In the second game on the schedule the Pirates received their first of two conference defeats of the season.

With the next game, against Lowell, the Pirates started a string of Calumet Conference victories that continued to the last game of the season. After Wirt and Dyer were defeated, the Buccs went on to show not only a sound offense, but also a powerful defensive unit by rolling over the East Gary Eagles 33—0.

The Highland Trojans were flooded twice on the night of the Homecoming game — once by the rain and once by the Pirates. Merrillville took this one, 13—0, to put Highland out of contention for the Calumet Conference Championship.

The Pirates played to their second loss of the season against rival Andrean. In the final game of the year the Buccs were defeated by Griffith. This dropped the Pirates to second place in the conference — behind the Portage Indians.

Reserves Have Losing Season

The Merrillville reserves under a new head coach, Don Patz, had a very unsuccessful season with a 1—6—1 record. The team with a lot of sophomore material moved up to the varsity, leaving the little Pirates with last years freshmen second-string team.

The importance of a well-trained reserve team is obvious. These boys will be trained to take over the varsity along with the help of the veteran varsity boys from the previous season.

The strength of the future varsity depends not on whether or not the reserves won or lost, but how they were coached. Don Patz, the head coach of the reserves this year, has worked with Mr. Demaree in the training of the varsity. He knows exactly what to train them for and how to overcome weaknesses in the varsity team.

 Hobart Invitational — Merrillville placed 15th out of 24
 South Bend Invitational — Merrillville placed 7th out of 18.

This year's cross country team, under the able coaching of Lloyd Ahlbrand, improved greatly over last year's team. They lost no lettermen through graduation, but 1961 record setter, Russ Clark, moved to Minnesota.

The Pirates finished in the same place in the Calumet Conference this year that they did last year, in sixth place out of twelve teams; but they finished 13 places ahead of last year's mark by racking up an eighth place position in the sectionals, where 24 teams participated.

Jim Aeschliman set a new school record for the 2-mile course in the triangular meet with Portage and Dyer by crossing the finish line after 10 minutes, 10 seconds of running. He chopped 9 seconds off Russ Clark's old record of 10 minutes, 19 seconds.

The harriers opened the season slowly, but gradually gained speed as the weeks went on. They lost their first meet to Hobart and Griffith, but picked up fast as they whipped the Red Devils of Lowell by a 23-32 score in their next match.

By the end of the season the Pirates had beaten eight teams and had lost to seven, not including the invitational.

One of the outstanding harriers for the team was sophomore Roger Levy, who placed first for the Pirates in both the Calumet Conference meet and the Gary area sectional meet.

Grapplers Struggle Through Losses

The Pirate grapplers finished their worst season in Merrillville wrestling history with a 1 and 6 won-lost record. The Buccs' lone victory came against the Eagles of East Gary, 27-14, in the last meet of the season.

The Pirates finished ninth out of eleven in the Calumet Conference, finishing ahead of East Gary and Chesterton. The champions were the Lowell Red Devils.

Sammy Kim, Denny Eaton, and Tom Martin were leading wrestlers, each getting at least a third place in the Crown Point sectionals. Eaton will be the only one returning to wrestle next year.

The 1962-63 season was a rebuilding one for the Pirates. Next year will show the results of the efforts made by new wrestling coach, Jim Kaiser.

Merrillville Pirates . . . Calumet Conference Co-Champions, 9 and 1

Behind the coaching of Bill Metcalf, the Pirate round-ballers led the Calumet Conference all through the season, and finally came up with a 9 and 1 record that was good enough to bring home the second Calumet Conference Championship in as many years. Again, though, it was a co-championship shared with the Panthers of Griffith, the only conference team to beat the Pirates.

The Buccs started the season with narrow victories over Calumet and Portage. In their fourth game, they suffered their first loss to independent Hobart. After winning two conference battles the Pirates entered the Lake County Tourney with a 5 and 1 all game record only to be set back by Griffith in the initial round.

Winners in the tournament, Bulldogs of Crown Point, received a 16 point thumping from the fired up

Pirates. In their second meeting of the year, the Griffith team again defeated the Buccs. The Pirate five followed this, their third loss of the year, with a string of eight victories, that included the seasons highest score, a 79 against the one time conference threat, Edison, who scored but 57 in this game, the last of the Pirates win streak. After faltering before the Redskins of Knox, the Buccs won their last game of the regular season by clipping the wings of the East Gary Eagles, a Calumet Conference team.

Not including the Gary sectionals, in which Merrillville was matched against Wirt, the Pirates finished the season with an all game mark of 15 wins and 4 losses, one of the most successful campaigns in Merrillville history.

Reserves Successful: 13 Wins, 5 Losses

The little Pirates finished the 1962-63 basketball season with an outstanding 13 and 5 won-lost record. An 8 and 2 record for Calumet Conference games was good enough to put them in second place, behind only undefeated Edison.

Coach Lloyd Ahlbrand's cagers were led by center Al Schmidt and back-court man, Mike Kelley. Schmidt ended the season as top scorer with 293 points, an average of 16.2 per game.

The wee Buccs started the season slowly, losing their first 3 of 5 games. They followed this with a five game win streak that ended at Rensselaer. Another win streak was started — this one lasting four games, and being terminated by the Blazers of Edison. The reserves closed the season with their highest scores of the year. They defeated Knox, 66—53, and East Gary, 73—47.

Graduation Hurts Thinclads,

Some of Merrillville's finest tracksters, Tom Workman, Lee Klausman, Don Litherland, Bill Smith, and Jeff Brugos, were lost through graduation. These boys alone scored better than half of the 1962 team's points. This year should prove then, to be a building year for Coach John Stefek's thinclads.

Only nine track lettermen are returning, but to help in the distance running are some cross country lettermen coming out for track. Among the returning track lettermen are this year's co-captains — Bob Hayes and Ken Leudtke. Four other seniors, Roger Fieser, pole vaulter; Tom Martin, shot putter; Pete Uremovich, hurdler; and Jerry Zeha, 440-runner, and junior Rick Kallenbach, and sophomores Jerry Fox and Jerry Knaga are the other seven lettermen returning to the '63 team.

But Underclassmen Are Strong

The encouraging factor for the coaches, Stefek and Jim Dinsmore, is that last year's freshmen were the best in Merrillville track history. They won over a very strong field the Griffith invitational meet for freshmen.

The 1963 squad will be trying hard to improve on last year's record of 7 wins and 2 losses in regular season Calumet Conference competition. They'll also be working towards an improvement over last year's 7th place in the Calumet Conference meet. It shouldn't be too difficult, if one stops to think that is the worst placing since track was revitalized at Merrillville in 1956.

Baseball Lettermen Return

The 1963 Pirates should prove to be as good as or better than last year's successful baseball team.

Helping the '63 Pirates to victories will be eight returning lettermen. Three of those lettermen were last year's top sluggers: Bob Gay was the leader with a .343 average; Alan Day was second; and Lon Witter, third.

The 1963 season will show not only experienced batting, but also experienced pitching with hurlers like Rick Schmidt, Bob Gay, and Mark Johnston. So, all in all, Coach Metcalf's 1963 team should turn out to be a very fine ball club.

Their single win came against Dyer when the Pirates beat them 3 to 5. The Pirates almost beat the Crown Point Bulldogs, but they were edged out by a score of 3 to 4.

This year the team will be experienced as all the freshmen from the previous year will be back to help Coach Ahlbrand have a winning year.

The importance of a good reserve baseball team is the same as every other reserve team, that is to strengthen future varsity squads.

Golfers Try to Improve on 10 and 6 Season

Along with baseball and track, golf makes the spring sport picture complete at M.H.S. The Pirate golfers, led by Mr. Hutchison, have their work cut out for them competing in the tough Calumet Conference. Last season, they had a very respectable record of ten wins and only six losses.

This year, with six returning lettermen, Al Thuren, Pete Mudrich, Jim Dobis, Jerry Gaede, Gary MacPherson, and Steve Rempis, the Pirate drivers should prove to be a serious Conference contender.

With the absence of a freshman class, the clubs have profited in many ways. This year, clubs may participate in more activities and concentrate on these activities. The club sponsors have more opportunity to give individual students attention and guidance.

Merrillville Boys Proud of “M”

The Letterman's Club is made up of athletes from each of the sports Merrillville offers. It strives to promote good sportsmanship, clean living, and participation in athletics. To be admitted to this club, one must have earned two major letters in one or more sports.

The biggest activity the club sponsors is the Athletic Ball, which is always one of the greatest crowd-drawing semi-formals of the year.

The intramurals were the main activity of the G.A.A. this year. The girls chose teams and were offered a wide variety of sports to participate in. Tournaments were held and the winning teams were awarded. A special activity was held each month in addition to the intramurals. A picnic and an ice show were among these activities.

The girls again this year had a Mother and Daughter Recreation Night. In December the club spread the joy of Christmas to the sick through caroling. A Play Day, participation in a sport at a college, was another activity enjoyed by the club. The main moneymaking project for the G.A.A. was the turn-about held in the spring. The year ended on its usual note with the annual banquet. Awards were given to the outstanding girl athletes. Miss Goodrich sponsored the G.A.A. again this year.

New members were initiated into the club at a formal candlelight ceremony in the fall. Among the activities of the F.H.A. were the spring and fall district meetings and the state meeting held later in the year. Food and toys were collected by the girls at Christmas and were given to needy families in the community.

The club took on an even bigger project than ever before this year by supporting seven orphans. During F.H.A. week the girls served breakfast to the faculty. The main money-making project for the F.H.A. was the Sweetheart Dance held in February. The year came to an end with the initiation of new officers and the senior farewell.

The Future Teachers of America club is an excellent organization for all students interested in a phase of the teaching profession. The sponsor of this club is Miss Leas.

The F.T.A. begins each year with a formal initiation of new members and installation of officers. They sponsor a Christmas party for the special education class at the Junior High. They continue in spreading "good cheer" by giving apples to the teachers on Valentine's Day.

The club attends the state and national conventions each year. They get a "bird's eye" view of their chosen profession when they have their teacher observation day. They also are presented with an opportunity to visit a chosen college.

Senior Hi-Y & Build

The officers of the club are G. Gilrowski, B. Gay, sponsor Mr. Ahlbrand, P. Uremovich and J. Coster.

Under the capable direction of Coach Lloyd Ahlbrand, the Senior Hi-Y was again very active this year. On December 15, the club sponsored its annual Christmas Dance in the Englehart Gymnasium. As customary, couples brought gaily wrapped gifts for distribution to needy children in the area.

In addition to the helpful services which they perform the boys participated in several recreational activities. Some of these included attending various athletic contests. The purposes of the Senior Hi-Y are to promote good sportsmanship, clean speech and living, to aid people in the community and to provide any services for the school.

The same goals that the Senior Hi-Y strives for are also the aims of the Junior Hi-Y. With Coach Richard Demaree as their sponsor, the boys participated in several activities this year. In addition to attending the Michigan State vs. Northwestern game, the boys also attended a basketball game in the spring. The Hi-Y's main project for the year was to improve the trophy cases in the gymnasium lobby.

As has been traditional, the club bought trophies for the major sport award recipients, as well as presented them at their annual formal banquet in the spring. A sock-hop was their main money-making project.

The officers of the club are: W. Monroe, President; H. Gearhart, V. President; Mr. Demaree, Sponsor; R. Johnson, Treasurer; and A. Schmidt, Secretary.

“Others”

The purpose of the Sunshine Society is to spread cheer. The sunshiners try to live by their motto “Others” in making their lives more useful in daily needs.

The members began the year with an impressive candlelight initiation of the newly enrolled members. The girls had entered a float in the Homecoming Parade and attended the District Convention in Brookston. They had dressed dolls contributed and distributed by the Salvation Army for the underprivileged children and went Christmas caroling at the Convalescent Home, Paramore Hospital, and Lake County Home. The money making projects of the club were a candy sale, bake sale and a sock hop. The Sunshine Society makes a yearly contribution to the Riley Hospital in Indianapolis for equipment and other needs of the children's ward.

The future activities of the Sunshine Club are a chili supper, Daddy-Date Night and a spring tea for the sunshiners and their mothers, at which time the new officers are installed.

Audio-Visual Provides Music, Lighting, and Films for M.H.S.

The purpose of the Audio-Visual club is to provide music for lunch hour and Friday night dancing, to assist in sound and lighting for school musical and dramatic productions, and to construct audio-visual aids. Besides this, the club offers its services to clubs wishing to use the audio-visual's phonograph and record collection.

The club members, however, mix pleasure with business. Field trips as well as dances fill out their yearly activity list. They went to a radio station and McCormick Place on field trips this year.

Enrollment in an audio-visual class is the sole requirement for membership. The club's sponsor is Mr. Velven Wooldridge.

The goals for the speech club are to promote interest in speech, to further speech work, and to improve and expand the program of speech at the high school level. The club participated in the Ball State — State Contest, the Rotary Speech Contest, Crown Point Area Speech Conference, and the Voice of Democracy.

Many activities were sponsored by the Speech Club, such as the selling of candy, Christmas corsages, Prom pins, taffy apples, and peanuts. It co-sponsored the annual Fine Arts Program.

To become a member, a person must have taken one year of speech. He must submit his name to Mr. Yule, the sponsor, and the members of the Club vote on his membership.

For the student body, the Spanish Club held a sock-hop in the gym which was decorated in Spanish decor.

Their outside-activity was a bowling and pizza-party at the Merri-Bowl.

Ending the year traditionally the members held the annual Spanish banquet complete with Spanish food and costumes.

The purpose of the Spanish Club is to promote interest in the Spanish language, peoples, and countries.

As the German Club concluded its third year at M.H.S., under the guidance of Miss Wolf, the members of the club were again reminded of their goals. An understanding of the habits and customs of the German people was gained by discussions and studies of the German culture.

At the annual banquet, the members enjoyed native German food, sang German songs, while in native attire.

The only requirement for membership in German Club is that the members be enrolled in a German class, or have completed a year of German at some time.

The Latin Club has one of the school's largest memberships.

Latins Keep Dead Language Alive

The Latin Club again this year worked for the purpose of promoting the interest and knowledge in the classical languages. In the fall the initiation of new members was held during a candlelight ceremony. The different gods and goddesses and their symbols were represented.

The main activity for the year was the banquet held in the spring. The theme for this year's banquet was "The Underworld." New members were sold as slaves and the money received was put into the club's scholarship fund. The club is sponsored by Mrs. Collins.

The major activity for the Science Club this year was the rocket firing and most of the club's work centered on this. The club had a number of static firings and then they actually fired the rocket. This was the first year that girls joined the club. Some of the other activities were a dance and a float in the Homecoming Parade. The Science Club is under the supervision of Mr. Bockstahler and Mr. Mathers.

Thespians busily make last minute preparations for one of their "big nights."

Sponsored by Mrs. Agnes Lynch, Thespian Troupe 1692 is comprised of students who have at least ten points in dramatics, earned by either acting or working on a play committee.

Among some of the many successful activities of the year were the club's participation in the Calumet Drama Festival and their trip to a professional dramatic production.

Climaxing this outstanding year was the annual spring banquet at which various awards were presented. Those included best actor and actress, best supporting actor and actress, best character actor and actress, best play, best sound effects and best setting.

The purpose of Thespians is to advance the standards of excellence in the art of drama.

School Policies Revolve Around Student Council

Paul Jones performing one of his many duties as president.

The business transacted in Student Council determines the conduct of many student affairs. Any student may become a candidate by a petition signed by ten classmates. Selection of the four representatives from each class is determined by class vote. Class presidents are automatic members. In addition to its governmental activities, the Council sponsors the annual Homemaking Parade, Casual and Dress-up Days, and all-school programs.

Quill and Scroll is the International Honorary Society for high school journalists.

Each member of Quill and Scroll has been recommended by Mrs. Felling, sponsor of the club, and has been approved by the national society. Candidates for membership in this society must have demonstrated fully to the satisfaction of their staff adviser, the board of publications, or the school principal that they merit the award through high scholarship, journalistic achievement and service.

The purpose of the society is to encourage and reward individual achievement in journalism and allied fields.

With fewer students this year's teachers are more able to give pupils necessary individual instruction. New teachers bring new and fresh ideas into the curriculum, which results in a broadening scope being put before the students.

Changes Seen in Curriculum

In German Class, Miss Wolf and Dave Smith point out geographical points of interest.

Elaine Belusky, Marlene Gransinger, and Frank Rongers study the Spanish class mascot.

Language Students Learn Customs, Language, Culture

The Language Department of Merrillville High consists of German, Latin, and Spanish class.

In addition to learning the languages of the Germans Spanish, and the Romans, customs, geographical points, and cultures are studied.

The Latin department benefits by the use of records, while the Spanish and the German departments use tape recording and Pathscope Berlitz material.

As an additional aid, two language labs are to be added this year. As new strides are being taken in modern languages, oral work is being accentuated at Merrillville this year.

One added effort, which serves as both a recreational and academic activity is the annual banquet of each of these departments. Each serves the food of its respective land and eats in a room with its national decor. The members also dress in significant costume.

All these efforts help to stir interest in subjects which are and will be forever increasing in importance in our world today, and all are essential in our future welfare.

Linda Severance, and Helen Linkhart admire Phil Troup's toga.

Sandy Messina watches Susan Esposito quiz Don Keegan on European countries.

Janice Kiburtz and Paul Jones study ballots during the primaries.

The Social Studies department at Merrillville consists of world history, United States history, government and economics.

World history, taught by Mr. Demaree is the history of the world and its important peoples. Mr. Talmadge and Mr. Davis, teaching U.S. history, describe the growth of our country. Mr. Armontrout teaches government, showing how American government works, and economics helps the individual understand the economics that affect his life.

Juniors study United States history in Mr. Talmadge's room.

Sandy Nuzzo, Nadine Maier, and Rick Shearer practice language skills.

The English department of M.H.S. consists of the two required courses of English and the two electives, College Prep and Business English. Taking sentences apart, diagraming, and learning the fundamental rules of grammar are the main topics of study in the first two years. Literature includes the reading of Silas Marner and Julius Caesar. Business English is a fourth year course that deals with the basic principles of grammar. In College Prep, themes are written and also the well-known senior sonnets are composed. This is an excellent preparatory course for future college students.

English and Speech Teach Language Skills

Diane Olson learns the proper techniques of public speaking.

Editors and business managers of the journalism staff review their work.

Journalists Record Year

Journalism offers training in newspaper and yearbook work. This course is not offered prior to the senior year; therefore, mistakes are certainly not unknown.

The staffs are divided into two separate groups, the Mirror staff and the Merrillvue staff. Each faction works to complete its own jobs but also assists the other. The very capable editors of the Mirror and the Merrillvue were Donna Niksch and John Halberstadt respectively. The business editors were Karen Wesley and Paul Jones. Under the direction of our editors the staffs learned to write stories, cut stencils, do headlines, write copy, and complete the initial production of a school paper and yearbook.

Larry Lovall and Claudia Lismen study a Biology chart.

Jean Rainford, Tom Kim, and Sam Kim prepare a chemistry experiment.

Science Students Employ the Scientific Method

This year the science department consists of advanced biology, chemistry and physics.

Biology is a science dealing with the origin and life history of plants and animals. Chemistry is the study of the composition of substances; physics, is studying, scientifically, matter and energy.

Since there are no freshmen here this year, general biology was not offered.

Studies are not limited to class room work. Students experiment on their own to learn more about the wonders of science.

Russ Stickles and Janice Leach examine slides under the microscope.

Phil Marshall demonstrates how mechanical drawing uses many rules of math.

Claire Oosterhof and Ray Hrezo learn the uses and parts of a slide rule.

Math Courses Help Students Advance

The Mathematics department of M.H.S. is concerned with teaching not only how to solve problems, but also why we solve them as we do. In our math section there are numerous subjects, algebra, geometry, advanced algebra, trigonometry, and business math. First year algebra students learn the basic principles of algebra.

Triangles, perpendiculars, and parallel lines are familiar to the geometry students. Advanced algebra delves further into algebra. Trigonometry is the highest level of math taught in Merrillville and combines both algebra and geometry. Business math teaches percentages and other facets of math used in business.

Pam Lyons and Howard Gearhart study geometrical forms.

Judy Marx learns to operate a Friden calculator in office machines.

Commercial Students Develop Typing and Machine Skills

The vocational business department at Merrillville High School is designed to aid students in their preparation for future occupations. Typing, shorthand, and bookkeeping are taught in the junior and senior years. One semester of training on various office machines is alternated with one semester of general clerical practice; a business math course is also offered. The office practice class receives training in typing stencils, tests, and announcements for the teachers. Students in office machines class learn the care and operation of seven different machines.

Honor certificates are given to students who attain certain speeds in shorthand, and there is a speed honor roll in typing.

Jim Metcalf develops typing skill through daily practice in Typing I.

Tom Martin works on the mural which is to be hung in the cafeteria.

Donna Niksch and Dan Etchison work on their sculpture in Art III.

Charlie Deible adds the finishing touches to a sculptured head.

Among the projects in which the art classes are engaged each year are abstract drawing, sand carving, and mosaics. Many students find working with clay their primary interest and develop their skill in making figurines and pottery. As each holiday season approaches, appropriate decorations are designed and created. As part of the course, students try block-printing and wood carving as well as still life and portrait sketching.

Annually Merrillville art students compete in a fashion-sketching contest sponsored by Gordon's. This year's winner was Sandy Wiesman, a third year art student. A special project, a mural tracing the history of Merrillville, was completed by the art classes and hung in the cafeteria.

Sandy Searer, June Radinsky, Linda Deuberry, and Elizabeth Pizzolato put away their supplies.

Sally Tomasic works on her sewing project.

Home Ec Prepares Girls for Future Life.

Girls planning a career in home-making are encouraged to take one or all of the many home economics courses offered at Merrillville High School. Cooking, sewing, child care, home nursing, and interior decorating are studied and mastered.

Cooking students practice basic culinary skills while next door the proper methods of cutting, assembling, and sewing garments are studied. Those students desiring extra-curricular activity in the homemaking field spend much time working with the F.H.A.

Carol Miller tries her hand at preparing a casserole.

Phys. Ed Classes Diminished

Health and safety is taught as a sophomore requirement. Good health practices, good driving habits, and emergency first aid rules are explained. Films, film strips, and plastic models are used to illustrate points. Many important rules are discussed to help Merrillville students practice good hygiene.

In the physical education classes this year there were only two boys' gym classes and one girls' gym class. This was due to the absence of freshmen in the high school. Basketball, volleyball, and baseball were only a few of the sports and activities practiced. Daily calisthenics were practiced because of the President's physical fitness plan.

Nancy Rogers and Connie Cunningham practice archery.

Val Domianus, Geneva Jones, and Peggy Hunt tee off.

Mr. Kaiser shows Tom Harper how to raise the dents on his gunstock.

The shops, including metal, wood, electric, and auto mechanics, are regular classes. The boys are given certain assignments in their texts as in any other class. The only difference between their classes and others is that they work individually. After being given instructions, they are given projects to work on.

In metal shop they work in sheet metal, wrought iron, and in the molding of metals.

In wood shop they are taught how to square boards and plane and finish wood. Some of their projects are gun racks, jewel boxes, and tables.

Electric shop teaches the fundamentals of wiring. Students learn how to wire houses and appliances.

Auto mechanics is a course that teaches the repair and care of the automobile. It emphasizes preventive maintenance, periodic inspection, and service.

Dick Engelhart and Doug Herron solder an electric motor.

Ron Fedorchak uses the table saw in Wood shop.

Walt Jachimczak and Gary Gullic show the fact that there is no sound in a vacuum.

Pete Mudrich adjusts a metal lath in metal shop.

Shop and Driver's Training Prepare for Future

Future motorists John Kustron, Bonnie Thompson, Pam Reibly, and Paulette Stoltz learn proper driving practices from Mr. Englehart.

The band practices formations for half-time shows.

The bands entry in the annual Homecoming Parade.

Music Department Prepares for Shows

Leading Merrillville's annual Homecoming Parade, the Marching Pirates began another successful year under the direction of Mr. Frank Meltzer. The band contributed an endless measure of spirit and support to the school. Comprising some of these efforts were the half-time performances of the Marching Pirates at the football games as well as the spirited playing of the Pep Band.

Trips to football games at Purdue and Northwestern as well as to the State Fair composed most of the band's recreational enjoyment. A smorgasbord dinner was the band's main money-making project for the year.

Closing the year at the annual banquet at Teibel's, seniors were honored and received their gifts.

Graduation 1963 ended many senior's high school careers, as they played with the group for the last time.

Under the direction of Mr. Jerauld Reinhart, the choral department enjoyed a successful year. Opening the season traditionally, they presented their annual Christmas production "Season's Greetings."

After many hours of practicing, members participated in the solo and ensemble contest. Held on February 2, Merrillville entered 25 solos and 13 ensembles. They co-produced the Winter concert with the band. Hobart was the site this year for the annual Chorale Festival in which our choir participated with groups from five other schools, including, Hobart, Highland, Crown Point, Calumet, and Griffith.

April was the date of the Spring Concert, parts of which the choir presented to the Junior High School Students. Members of the Music department sold candy this year for the money-making project. The choral department consisted of the Concert Choir, the Senior Belles, the Velveteens, and the Vocalteens. Closing the year at the banquet honoring Seniors, choir members and their parents saw a musical production in the auditorium after which the seniors were presented their gifts.

Lastly with other choir members, the seniors ended their high school singing career at their own baccalaureate exercises in May.

The Senior Choir spends many hours practicing and learning new songs.

The year of change can be seen readily in our student body and faculty. New faces were seen and new ideas proposed and discussed. The most striking difference this year, was the lack of a ^{new} class, the freshmen.

Seniors Say Farewell

Four years ago we started high school. Now, our last year is already here. On May 28, we will leave the halls of M.H.S. but we will take with us many happy memories.

Our freshman year we joined clubs, did homework, cheered the Pirates, and demonstrated our dramatic talent in our presentation of "Meet me in St. Louis."

As sophomores we decided against class sweaters, gave "Seven Sisters" as our class play, and studied hard to get through the classes we took.

Then in our junior year we got our class rings. We couldn't get together on the style and broke a long established tradition by getting several different kinds. But we worked together on the float for Homecoming and even got second with our "Bury the Blazers." We gave a new and different play — "Kiss me Kate" and made it a big success.

For our Prom we decided to transform the gym into a scene in "Romantic Rome." Buddy Presner played the music as we danced in a Roman park with a huge white fountain in the center. Roger Feiser and Donna Grant were crowned Prom King & Queen. After the crowning we left for Vogel's and were entertained by "Wicky & the Weirdos." Then at 4 o'clock we headed home. As the year came to a close, we said good-bye to the graduating seniors & anxiously awaited the next year when we would be seniors.

Finally we made it. We watched Pete Uremovich make All-State in football and cheered when we found out he was the first All-State from M.H.S. We built our float for Homecoming, a team of horses and a coach, named it "Fine Coach, Fine Team"; and won first with it. Rae Ellen Sherrington was our Homecoming Queen and reigned at the dance. We got our pictures taken, presented "Dark of the Moon," ordered announcements, and planned for the future.

Then the day came we had all looked forward to. We couldn't help but look back; finally though, we turned and walked boldly forward.

The Senior class float wins 1st.

Linda Severance is named salutatorian.

Joan Daniel is named valedictorian.

Judy Masteller is also named salutatorian.

Juniors Look Forward to Prom

The Junior class chose as its play, Mrs. McThing; it was a comedy presented November 16 and 17. A total of one thousand people attended the play, making a record-breaking income for a Junior class play. They also sponsored a dance after the play.

The Juniors received an honorable mention for their float which was a whale that wiggled its tail, and had water coming out of its blowhole. The Junior executive board chose rings with a green stone and the Pirate crest. This was the first year the Juniors received their rings early in the year. Bake sales contributed to the fund for the Junior Prom presented May 4.

The Best Is Yet to Come

— Pam Heisterberg, Pres.; Fred
Maihofer, V. Pres.; Carol Book-walter, Sec.; Marilyn Gill, Treas.

The sophomore class was very special this year since there were no freshmen. This year they had all the lavish attention of the upper classmen.

Mr. Holderman, the sophomore's sponsor had a very interesting and busy year for them. The class had the usual car-wash and bake sale; also for the second time in Merrillville's memory a float was entered for the Homecoming parade. The feature of the float was a golden horse, and the theme was "Drum the Trojans off the Field."

The play was the most exciting and rewarding experience for the class. This year's play was a comedy. After a year of not having a sophomore play, it was very well presented. It was co-sponsored by Mrs. Lynch and Mr. Yule.

The Merrillville sophomores had a very eventful change this year. For the first time in our school's history the sophomores got to choose their rings at the end of the year. Of all the changes this year, the rings were the most welcomed and appreciated change.

Fred Maihofer "drums up" the homecoming spirit.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased from 10.5 million to 13.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased from 4.5 million to 6.5 million (Office of National Statistics 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of older people in the community. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out a vision for the future of older people's health and care. The strategy is based on the following principles: older people should be able to live independently and actively; older people should be able to access the services they need; and older people should be able to participate in decisions about their care and services.

The strategy also sets out a number of key objectives for the future of older people's health and care. These include: to improve the health and well-being of older people; to ensure that older people have access to the services they need; to ensure that older people are able to participate in decisions about their care and services; and to ensure that older people are able to live independently and actively.

The strategy is a key document for the future of older people's health and care in the UK. the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation, 2000). The prevalence of mental health problems in the UK is estimated to be 10% (Mental Health Foundation, 2000).

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the needs of people with mental health problems. The UK government has set out a strategy for mental health care (Department of Health, 1999). This strategy aims to improve the lives of people with mental health problems by providing them with the best possible care and support. The strategy also aims to reduce the stigma and discrimination that people with mental health problems often experience.

One of the key challenges in mental health care is how to provide care and support in a way that is effective and sustainable. This is a challenge because people with mental health problems often have complex needs and may be difficult to engage with. In addition, mental health care is often expensive and may be difficult to access.

One way to address these challenges is by using self-help interventions. Self-help interventions are interventions that people can use on their own, without the need for a professional. Self-help interventions can be effective for a range of mental health problems, including depression, anxiety, and stress.

Self-help interventions can be delivered in a number of ways, including through books, videos, and computer programs. Self-help interventions can also be delivered through the internet. Self-help interventions can be a cost-effective way to provide care and support to people with mental health problems.

One of the key challenges in self-help interventions is how to ensure that they are effective and sustainable. This is a challenge because people may not use self-help interventions correctly or may not use them at all. In addition, self-help interventions may not be suitable for everyone.

One way to address these challenges is by using a self-help intervention that is tailored to the individual. This can be done by using a self-help intervention that is based on the individual's needs and preferences. This can be done by using a self-help intervention that is delivered in a way that is convenient for the individual.

Another way to address these challenges is by using a self-help intervention that is supported by a professional. This can be done by using a self-help intervention that is delivered by a professional or by a professional who is available to provide support and advice. This can be done by using a self-help intervention that is delivered through a telephone helpline.

Self-help interventions can be a valuable way to provide care and support to people with mental health problems. However, it is important to ensure that self-help interventions are effective and sustainable. This can be done by using a self-help intervention that is tailored to the individual and by using a self-help intervention that is supported by a professional.

Self-help interventions can be a cost-effective way to provide care and support to people with mental health problems. However, it is important to ensure that self-help interventions are effective and sustainable. This can be done by using a self-help intervention that is tailored to the individual and by using a self-help intervention that is supported by a professional.
